

Deepesh Nanda is the Chief Executive Officer for GE Gas Power in South Asia, responsible for GE's business in countries such as India, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Mauritius, and Nepal. At the Asia level, he leads strategic initiatives to providing highly efficient, reliable and fast powering solutions to the areas that need them the most.

Deepesh has more than two decades of experience in the Energy sector. Before starting his stint with GE, he served as Tyco Sanmar's Vice President & Business Manager from 2005 to 2010 and headed Flowserve's regional office from 2000 to 2005.

He holds a bachelor's degree, with distinction, in Mechanical & Production Engineering from Annamalai University, Chidambaram, India, and an M.B.A from the OUBS, Milton Keynes, UK.

Deepesh continues to play a significant role in developing growth strategies and finding solutions to bring electricity to the far-flung geographies of Asia. His experience in building infrastructure projects impacts everyday lives of people and helps in the next phase of energy transformation for the region.
