

Profile:

Arunkumar Melkote

Arun Melkote is Vice President at Wipro Digital. He brings over 23 years of industry experience in various leadership roles driving client and employee success. He and his team are focused on bringing together deep industry experience coupled with technology expertise to transform and modernize the enterprise application estate of Wipro's clients.

Arun describes himself as a "jack of all trades, master of none," but with a capability to bring value by connecting the dots. He finds energy in being amongst people and happiness in seeing people around him succeed.

His interests are diverse, from being interested in art, music and books to an amateur sportsman with a liking for cricket and soccer and an advisor to startups. An eternal optimist and student forever, he is inspired by the infinite resources of nature and the human mind.'

He is currently based in Bangalore, India.

Arunkumar Melkote

VP – Wipro Digital